

Dr. Gary Carter: "Mouth Guards Prevent Injuries"

A mouth guard is one of the least expensive pieces of protective equipment available. Over-the-counter versions cost as little as five dollars, but the custom-fit mouth guards offer greater protection. Not only can a mouth guard save teeth, it can also protect from a concussion injury by acting as a "shock absorber."

Dr. Carter advises: "It is Facial Protection Month. As an expert in helping patients achieve a healthy, beautiful smile, the last thing I want to see is a smile ruined by a preventable injury."

Dr. Carter has made custom mouth guards for Air Force Academy and high school footballers, wrestlers, hockey players and pro fighters. As an orthodontist, he can recommend the best mouth guard for the athlete who wears braces. Custom mouth guards are made in his Sandy office.

Dr. Carter donates $100 in your name to your school . . . plus much more!

Schools are hurting financially and Dr. Carter wants to help. To ease the burden, Dr. Carter will donate $100 to the student's school in the name of each respective student that has orthodontic treatment in his office. Also, he will give every student $100 off the normal treatment fee for braces – that's a $100 donation to the student's school and another $100 to the student. It's a win-win situation and a great way to help your school.

Here is how it works: If your student needs braces, bring him or her to Dr. Carter's orthodontic office for a complimentary x-ray and consultation. Start the student's full treatment and receive $100 off the normal fee. Dr. Carter will then donate another $100 in your name to your school: $50 at the start of your braces and $50 at the end. To make it extra comfy, if you have your orthodontic records made the day of the consultation, you get an additional $140 off the records fee. It's a no-brainer! All students from elementary through college are eligible but YOU MUST BRING THIS FLYER TO THE EXAM TO QUALIFY.

Support your school today and get a perfect smile at the same time!
